Have you ever eaten rabbit meat? ...deer meat...and camel meat? When Camus told me rabbit meat is delicious, my reaction: "yarrkk, how can we eat rabbit meat?"

One day, when I taken lunch at Kompleks Bukit Gedung, Bayan Lepas, I found a burger store that sells weird weird types of burger, such as lamb and rabbit. Beef burger and chicken burger are very common to me, but lamb and rabbit are new to me. I informed Camus and brought him there for dinner.

When we put order, we realised they actually sell prawn burger, fish burger and camel burger (burger unta) too. I wanted to try camel burger but Camus said the meat is harder, so we stick to rabbit burger special.

You can see how big the burger is, almost size of adult's palm. I actually feel disgusting before my first bite on rabbit meat, feel like want to vomit. I finally get up the nerve and eat it. Ermmmmmmm, DELICIOOUSsss... it's YUMMY. It's so soft and so special. I can hardly describe the taste but it really taste good.

We bought this special child's size for RM5.50, it's a big 10 cm in diameter with lettuce, cheese and sauce. The sauces
