James Foo western food is located in Tanjung Tokong Penang. I have heard of it's popularity since years ago, but have not find a chance to try it. Last two weeks, we have decided to go there for dinner.

Without disappointment, we are quite satisfied with the food, on the portion and taste.

We ordered steak without mentioned on how well we want the beef to be cooked. When the steak was served, we were surprised to see the steak was medium well cooked. We can still see blood came out from the beef, it was yummy.

Although we had a lamb chop, it is very tasty too. We like the French fries as they are

They have enjoyed dinner, we hope to visit again, we called for ice lemon tea.
